

MODERN LUXURY

Interiors

CHICAGO

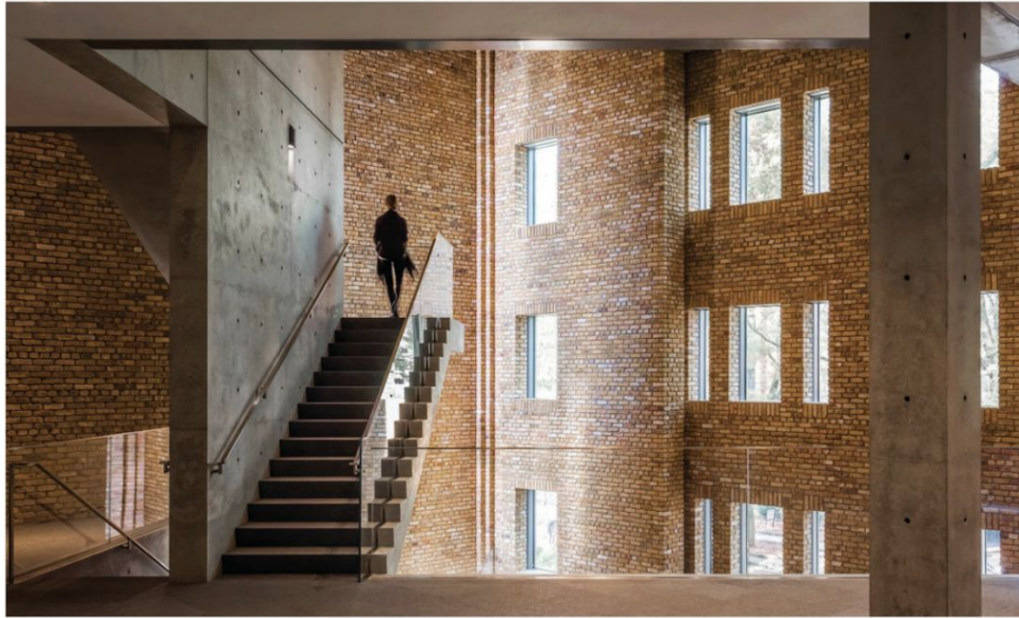

BEST OF DESIGN 2019

INSPIRATION TO NOTE NOW!

PLUS

FABULOUS FEMALE MAKERS,
ANTONIO CITTERIO'S NEW COLLECTION
& TADAO ANDO'S MARK ON THE CITY

@INTERIORSCHICAGO
MODERNLUXURY.COM
BY THE PUBLISHERS OF MODERN LUXURY CS

Living in Chicago

- 80 Editor's Picks Pantone's color of the year is a shade of pink that is increasingly rare to see.
- 82 People As Flexform unveils his new work, architect and designer Antonio Citterio examines his prolific career.
- 84 Heritage Fendi Casa celebrates its 30th anniversary by rethinking some of its most iconic pieces.
- 126 Dispatch Designers and brands to watch, and the hottest trends we uncovered at Design Miami/
- 137 House Party Chicago
- 146 Marketplace
- 160 Interior Monologue Renowned Japanese architect Tadao Ando makes his mark on Chicago with the poetic new art and architectural exhibition space Wrightwood 659.

Explore

- 117 Spotlight Sculptress Gwen Lux is the star of the show at The Gwen.
- 118 Buzz Discover the sweeter side of Bordeaux at Maison Lalique's Chateau Lafaurie-Peyraguey grand cru wine estate.
- 122 Second Homes High-end living in unexpected places from Texas Hill Country to northern Utah

ON THE COVER

PHOTOGRAPHY: Chris Bradley
DESIGNER: Lauren Warnock and Aimee Wertepny of PROJECT
 Interiors transformed an industrial urban loft into an eclectically layered, warm and inviting home.

PHOTO BY JEFF GOLDBERG, ESTO

LIVING IN CHICAGO

editor's picks

1. Stella Alpina floral two-piece dessert plate set, $128, by LaDoubleJ at matchesfashion.com 2. A swatch of the Pantone color of the year 2019, Living Coral 3. Cambridge III hanging fixture, $2,500, oomphhome.com 4. Handmade high-gloss lacquer tray, $350, by Pentreath & Hall for The Lacquer Company at thelacquercompany.com 5. Star Eye print metal folding table, $1,250, Gucci, 900 N. Michigan Ave., gucci.com 6. Retro slim fridge in Salmon Pink, $2,895, bigchill.com 7. Metropolitan 14-foot sofa, from $4,342, by Jeffrey Bennett for B&B Italia at B&B Italia at WPA Chicago, 309 W. Superior St., Ste. 110, bebitalia.com 8. Livia chair, set of two for $670, by Gio Ponti, reissued by L'Abbate at artemest.com

SAVE THE CORAL

Pantone's color of the year is Living Coral, an increasingly rare shade of pink to see in its natural habitat. By Sarah Bray

At High Point Market, I found myself at a dinner seated next to some of the nation's most notable interior designers. To kick things off, the host of the evening, One Kings Lane President Debbie Propst, asked us to go around and predict the "it" color for the coming year. Over Millennial Pink, but still seeing the world through rose-colored glasses, I said coral. And, much to my surprise, so did many of the table's plugged-in aesthetes, including Mark D. Sikes, Amanda Lindroth, Benjamin and Jennifer Sohr, Paloma Contreras, and Suzanne Kasler. Fast-forward to just before the new year, and I couldn't believe it when I read that the Pantone Color Institute announced the shade, which it named Living Coral, as its color of the year. "In its glorious yet unfortunately more elusive display beneath the sea, this vivifying and effervescent color mesmerizes the eye and mind," says Leatrice Eiseman, executive director of the Pantone Color Institute. A reminder that this oceanic hue, which used to saturate our Earth's most valuable and threatened ecosystem (half of the Great Barrier Reef has died since 2016), is a rare beauty that all who admire should consciously try to protect.